Which file to print

Each design comes in five files, one for each frame shape. Pick the file that matches your frame and print it at the size of the frame. A file made for a large frame prints cleanly at any smaller size of the same shape.

The five shapes drawn to scale. The dashed line is the 0.4 in margin that stays clear of text.

Frame size to file

YOUR FRAME OR MAT OPENING	PRINT THIS FILE	NOTE
4 x 6 in	-2x3.jpg	Not recommended: the citation prints very small. Smallest suggested 2:3 size is 8 x 12 in.
5 x 7 in	-iso.jpg	The ISO file is about 1/16 in taller than 7 in; the frame lip or mat hides it.
8 x 10 in	-4x5.jpg
8 x 12 in	-2x3.jpg
11 x 14 in	-11x14.jpg
12 x 16 in	-3x4.jpg
12 x 18 in	-2x3.jpg
16 x 20 in	-4x5.jpg
18 x 24 in	-3x4.jpg
20 x 30 in	-2x3.jpg
24 x 36 in	-2x3.jpg
A5, A4, A3	-iso.jpg
A2, A1	-iso.jpg	Same shape as A3. Good up to A2; for larger, view from a little distance.

Printing tips

- Print at the size of your frame (say 8 x 10 in), or use “fit to page” on paper that size. Each file is made for the largest frame of its shape, so avoid “actual size” unless your frame is that size.
- Every file keeps a 0.4 in margin clear of text, so a frame lip or a print-shop trim will not touch the words.
- Matte or lightly textured paper suits these designs best. Heavy cotton or watercolour paper looks lovely too.
- For sizes over A3 or 11 x 14 in, a local print shop or an online photo lab will give the best result.
- Frames with a mat: choose the file for the mat opening, not the outer frame.
