
LENT 2027

Forty Days in His Words

A Lent journal in the words Jesus spoke. One saying of Jesus for each day, in the King James Version, with a short reflection and room to write.

“Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.”

MATTHEW 11:28

One saying a day

Lent is the forty days before Easter, not counting Sundays. In 2027 it begins on Ash Wednesday, 10 February, and ends on Holy Saturday, 27 March. Each day has one saying of Jesus from the Gospels, set in red, the way old Bibles printed his words. Give it ten quiet minutes.

Read Read the saying slowly, twice. Out loud if you can. Notice the word or phrase that catches.

Reflect Read the short reflection beneath it. It is there to open the saying, not to explain it away.

Respond Answer the question on the lines below, or write whatever comes. A sentence is enough. Tick the boxes at the foot of the page if that helps you keep going.

Missed a day? Do not go back and catch up. Read today's and keep walking. These pages are an invitation, not a test.

The sayings are from the King James Version (1769), public domain, and are printed exactly as written. Where two of his lines from the same passage are joined, “...” marks the words in between.

The way through

Mark each day as you finish it.

1 The time is now Feb 10	2 Follow me Feb 11	3 Not by bread alone Feb 12	4 Come unto me Feb 13	5 Blessed are the poor in spirit Feb 15
6 The merciful and the peacemakers Feb 16	7 Let your light shine Feb 17	8 Pray in secret Feb 18	9 After this manner pray Feb 19	10 Seek first Feb 20
11 Love your enemies Feb 22	12 Judge not Feb 23	13 The mote and the beam Feb 24	14 Seventy times seven Feb 25	15 Give Feb 26
16 A new commandment Feb 27	17 The lost sheep Mar 1	18 A great way off Mar 2	19 The mustard seed Mar 3	20 The Samaritan Mar 4
21 The pearl of great price Mar 5	22 God be merciful to me Mar 6	23 Peace, be still Mar 8	24 It is I Mar 9	25 Go in peace Mar 10
26 All things are possible Mar 11	27 Faith as a grain of mustard seed Mar 12	28 Neither do I condemn thee Mar 13	29 The bread of life Mar 15	30 The light of the world Mar 16
31 The good shepherd Mar 17	32 The resurrection and the life Mar 18	33 The way, the truth, and the life Mar 19	34 The vine Mar 20	35 A corn of wheat Mar 22
36 Wash one another's feet Mar 23	37 My peace I give unto you Mar 24	38 Not as I will Mar 25	39 It is finished Mar 26	40 Into thy hands Mar 27

THE FIRST DAYS

Turn

Ash Wednesday to Saturday. Lent begins where his preaching began: with an invitation to turn around.

The time is now

The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

MARK 1:15

These are the first words Mark records him saying. To repent is to turn around, to face a new direction. He puts it next to good news on purpose: you are not turning toward a punishment, you are turning toward something near and good. Lent is forty days of practicing that turn.

What would you like to turn away from, and what would you like to turn toward, by Easter?

Follow me

Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

MATTHEW 4:19

He said this to two working men standing in their boats. He did not ask them to understand everything first, or to become someone else before they started. He asked them to walk behind him, and promised that he would do the making.

Where in your ordinary day could you follow him more closely this week?

Not by bread alone

It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

MATTHEW 4:4

He was hungry when he said it, forty days into the wilderness. Lent copies those forty days. Whatever you have set aside this season, the empty space it leaves is room to be fed another way.

What are you fasting from, and what would you like to fill that space with?

YOU HAVE READ THREE OF FORTY

Keep walking

The full journal carries on through the Sermon on the Mount, the parables, the storms, the seven "I am" sayings and Holy Week, to his last words from the cross and the morning of Easter. Forty days, six Sunday pages, the seven last words and an Easter page: 61 printable pages in all.